Night.

Beginning promptly at 8 o'clock a general fine stock, show and regular free and special attractions.

Good weather and a pleasing program have been the two factors entering into the success of this year's Nodaway county fair, which closes tomorrow night. And indeed, the fair has been a success both from a financial and an attendance standpoint. It is estimated by Secretary John Tilson that 24,000 persons attended the fair yesterday, the fourth day usually being the biggest. The crowd yesterday would have broken all records had it not been for the clouds that undoubtedly kept some people away.

The gate receipts yesterday were not so large as those of last year. But so far the fair has paid out ,the gate receipts and concession money amounting to about the same as last year. Much credit is due to A. O. Mason, president of the Fair association, who has assumed practically all of the responsibility, making possible a county fair in Maryville.

An added free attraction will be given tonight. Moving pictures of the fair have been taken every day and they will be shown at the fair tonight. The machine will be placed in the grandstand and the screen will be on the front of the judges' stand.

Fancy Work Judged

The judges of the domestic science and fancy work exhibits completed their work yesterday afternoon, awarding the premiums in all the classes of exhibits. The display of ornamental needlework was worthy of a state fair, and the awards were made with difficulty because of the general excellence of the work shown.

The judges for the fancy work were Mrs. Walker Lee Campbell, Portland, Ore., Mrs. W. W. Craig, Bolckow, and Mrs. Wright, Maryville.

The judges for the fruit, bread, butter and cake exhibits were: Mrs. Robert Lyle, Emmett Scott and Mrs. Ida Persons.

The women having charge of the exhibits are: Mrs. Ed Egley, Mrs. C. J. Eckert, Mrs. Vada Halley, Mrs. L. E. Crossan and Mrs. W. A. Miller. Mrs. Egley is superintendent of the domestic science division and Mrs. Halley is in charge of the fancy work display.

FINE HORSE KILLED

ANIMAL BELONGING TO CHARLES SCHRADER IN COLLISION.

GENE VOGEL IS INJURED

The first accident of the fair happened last night just before the five-gaited contest was to take place. In the warm-up R. L. Davis was driving Gene Vogel, one of Don Riley's prize horses. He was coming down the straightaway in a fast trot. Charles Schrader of Bolckow was riding one of his 3-year-old horses. As Davis neared them, Schrader's horse became frightened and jumped in front of Gene Vogel. Davis attempted to make a quick stop, but the left shaft struck Schrader's horse in the side. It got up and walked almost to the stables, when it fell dead. Mr. Schrader was thrown under Gene Vogel, but he was not seriously injured.

Gene Vogel was also injured. It was at first thought that his left fore leg was broken, but it was found later to be only a sprain.

The loss of this valuable horse is very serious in the eyes of Mr. Schrader, not alone because of its monetary value, but because he had trained it himself and was extremely proud of it.

The five-gait class was omitted on account of the accident. The results in the single driving were: First, Ben Hur, owned by Don Riley of St. Joseph; second, Major, owned by R. L. Davis of Kansas City; third, Atelke Bleese, owned by Dysart Brothers of Savannah; fourth, Diamond, owned by L. V. Anderson of Conception.

Much credit must be given to J. W. Herndon and James Evans for the way in which they handled the stock parade last night, showing all the prize winners.

THE REV. R. W. WALDRAVEN ARRIVES FOR PRELIMINARIES.

SUNDAY, THE BIG DAY

Doctor Scoville Always Preaches Most Powerful Sermons the Opening Day—Tent Nearly Ready.

The Scoville party will arrive at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the Burlington. The committees are arranging a demonstration in honor of their arrival and would like as many persons as possible to take part.

The Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic meetings which start Sunday were given tremendous impetus today when the Rev. R. U. Waldraven, his assistant, took charge of the preliminary plans.

The Rev. Mr. Waldraven arrived last night.

Today Protestant ministers and scores of laymen were in committee meetings and conferences. Thousands of cards were distributed over the city and the meetings are being given every possible boost.

A big prayer meeting, to which every one interested is invited, will be held tonight at the First Presbyterian church. Lon D. Parker, extension secretary of the Scoville party, will be in charge.

Rev. Mr. Waldraven was greatly pleased over the arrangements made by local supporters of the meetings. He expressed gratitude at the action of the fair officials in permitting the an-

TO IMPROVE ROAD

MEETING OF SAINTS' HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION HERE SEPT. 15.

DISCUSSION OF ROUTING

Delegates From Towns Will Meet to Effect Permanent Organization and to Lay Plans for Work.

S. E. Wainwright, temporary president of the Saints' Highway association to be held in Maryville at the Maryville Commercial club office at 9 o'clock Friday morning, September 15.

The delegates chosen from all of the towns situated on the Saints' Highway between St. Joseph and Des Moines will at this time affect a permanent reorganization of their association, elect their permanent officers and make plans for the improvement of the highway.

The questions of mapping out plans for the improvement of the highway, of re-marking the necessary places along the road and of obtaining the means for the continuation of the work will be discussed at this meeting, and those interested in the road are hoping that some of the necessary constructive work may be accomplished this fall.

Saints' Highway has a number of natural advantages over the other roads between these points, but it is also greatly in need of improvement. It has fewer hills, lower grades and larger towns along its route, but on the other hand, there are many places where the improvement of the road bed and the placing of markers would be of great advantage in drawing the tourist travel. One of the things to be discussed at length and possibly to be decided upon at the meeting is a change in the routing of the highway. It is planned to have the delegates take some action on this phase of the matter.

When the highway is improved the publishers of the Automobile Blue Book have promised to send representatives to make a trip over the road for the purpose of making a log of the highway, which will be used in the issue of the blue book. This will mean a lot to the road and to the towns along the line, especially when it is remembered that the Automobile Blue Book is considered the best authority on routes and traveling conditions in the United States. Saints Highway has not yet been mentioned among the recommended roads for tourists in this travelers' guide.

An invitation has been extended to all the known good roads boosters of the various towns along the route, and the approaching meeting will, no doubt, be one of much importance.

CONGRESS ENDS SESSION TODAY

MEMBERS SCRAMBLED TO GET AWAY AFTER ADJOURNMENT.

MANY IMPORTANT BILLS PASSED AT THIS SESSION

Was the Most Momentous Session for a Generation—Frequent and Bitter Debates Over Foreign Issues.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The first session of the sixty-fourth congress ended at 10:02 this morning. The most momentous session of any congress for a generation closed as President Wilson signed the administration two hundred million dollar revenue bill as the last one of a long series of important measures which have occupied the attention of nine months of sitting.

The time fixed for adjournment by joint resolution adopted by both houses was 10 o'clock this morning, and at the fall of the gavel, Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark dissolved congress until December 4. The drop of the gavels was a signal for a general scramble to get away from Washington to get into the political campaign. President Wilson went to his room in the senate wing early to begin signing bills awaiting his signature.

Before adjournment the senate adopted the Curtis resolution to investigate the alleged activities of the British government lobby against the amendment, now dead, which was to the revenue bill retaliating against the Canadian fisheries. The investigation will be made by the senate lobby committee.

President Wilson this afternoon lauded the work of congress during the session just closed, and served notice on departing legislators he will insist on the passage of the recent strike preventive legislation program in the early days of the next session.

Important bills passed by the sixty-fourth congress since last December include:

Preparedness.
Rural credits.
Philippines.
Child labor.
Vocational training.
Workmen's compensation.
Shipping.
Good roads.
Emergency revenue.
Rivers and harbors.

By far the biggest achievement of congress, in the opinion of leaders on both sides, was the passage of the preparedness program. This program was divided into six bills, which appropriated a total of nearly $700,000,000 for the national defense.

The six preparedness bills were The army reorganization bill, the naval appropriation bill, the fortifications bill, and the naval and military academy bills. The army reorganization bill is designed to increase the regular army to approximately 145,000 enlisted fighting men and 11,000 officers, peace strength, and to raise the strength of the national guard to aproximately 440,000 enlisted men and 17,000 officers. The army appropriation bill provides $267,000,000 to pay for these date.

The naval appropriation bill authorizes a three-year building program of 157 ships, including ten dreadnaughts and six battle cruisers and provides $313,000,000 to pay the first year's installment.

The rural credits bill, regarded by the administration as one of its biggest achievements, provided a farm loan board to supervise the system.

The shipping bill created a shipping board and provided $50,000,000 for the purchase of ships to relieve the shortage of freight carrying facilities in foreign trade.

The child labor bill places a ban on the shipment of child labor products in interstate and foreign commerce.

The Philippines bill provides a more autonomous government for the Philippine islands. Its passage was delayed by a vigorous fight to declare for Philippine independence on a specific late.

The vocational education bill provides for federal aid to the states for training in agricultural pursuits and in the trades.

The workmen's compensation bill fixes the compensation to be paid to United States employees injured or killed.

The good roads bill provides $85,000,000 for federal aid to the states in the construction of good roads.

The emergency revenue bill is designed to raise approximately $200,000,000 to meet the deficit in the national treasury.

The rivers and harbors bill appropriated $43,000,000 for improvements to the harbors and waterways of the country. This was vigorously opposed as "pork barrel" measure.

The Nicaraguan treaty provided for the payment of $3,000,000 to Nicaragua for canal and coaling station rights.

The Haytaian treaty established a protectorate by the United States over the republic of Haiti.

The session was greatly prolonged by frequent and bitter debates over the issues growing out of the European war and the Mexican situation. Repeated attempts, notably the Gore resolution in the senate and the McLemore resolution in the house, were made to force changes in the president's foreign policy, but the administration always managed to retain the whip hand.

The only important measure vetoed by the president was the army appropriation bill, which was quickly amended to conform to his views.

MANY ENOCH ARDENS NOW

Soldiers Believed to Be Dead Turn Up Again—Wives Marry Again, Causing Complication.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Since the beginning of the war many soldiers who were believed dead have turned up alive in prison camps in Russia, France or England. In some cases the wives of these men, believing themselves widows, had married again, and some even have ended their lives when they learned that they had involuntarily committed bigamy.

To prevent such tragedies the government has warned all soldiers' widows not to remarry too hastily, and advises them to wait at least one year after receiving official notice of the death of their husbands.

SHOOT THE BUZZARDS.

"Shoot the Buzzards"—they are liable to spread many different contagious diseases among animals. The hog cholera season is here, and the buzzards help to spread this disease, so says State Veterinarian Dr. D. F. Luckey.

A few outbreaks of anthrax have occurred in Northern Arkansas. This disease is usually prevalent further south and seldom becomes widespread as far north as it has this year. Anthrax is equally as bad as hog cholera. Buzzards are likely to carry anthrax from Northern Arkansas into Missouri. Shoot the buzzards and burn them!

Most people think there is a law in Missouri against killing buzzards. There is no law to this effect, and has not been for at least many years. Buzzards are a menace to live stock production, and therefore should be killed and burned. "Shoot the Buzzards!"

TO WED FOREIGNER

YOUNG JAPANESE PRINCESS TO MARRY ORIENTAL SUBJECT.

Marriage Marks Step in Japan's Policy of Absorbing the Koreans—To Be Delayed Two Years.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Tokyo, Sept. 8.—For the first time in Japanese history a princess of the imperial family is to marry a foreigner. The bridegroom is an oriental and a Japanese subject as well, nevertheless he is a foreigner in Japanese eyes and is enjoying a tremendous honor in being permitted to wed a "daughter of the gods."

The bride-to-be is Princess Masako Nashimoto, eldest daughter of Prince Nashimoto, the emperor's cousin, and the happy man is Prince Yi Kun of Korea, eldest son of the ex-emperor of Korea. The prince is twenty years of age and the princess fifteen. She is still a student at the Peeresses' School in Tokyo and has two years' study before her yet, so the wedding will not take place for a few hours.

The young prince is a pupil at the Military Academy in Tokyo and has lived in Japan for the last five years.

The wedding of the two families marks a step in Japan's policy of absorbing the Koreans, to whom they are, of course, closely allied in race. The wedding is said to have been planned by Prince Ito who, as governor general of Korea, brought the young prince to Japan for his education. The present governor general, Count Terauchi, approved of the plan and it fell to him to carry out the final negotiations which made it a success.

The final formalities consisted in Count Terauchi's going to the imperial palace and placing a request for the princess' hand and heart before Baron Hatano, minister of the household, who transmitted it to the emperor, who was graciously pleased to assent. The imperial family law makes no provisions for marriages between princes or princesses of the blood and foreigners, so the match can not be officially announced until the emperor makes a new law.

Enrollment Increases 12.

The Burlington Junction public schools opened Monday under very favorable conditions. The enrollment is 268, a gain of 12 pupils over last year. There are 69 enrolled in the high school, which is a gain of nine over last year. The work is starting off satisfactorily and everything is favorable for a successful term of school. The enrollment in each department is: 1st room, 29; 2nd room, 41; 3rd room, 48; 4th room, 40; 5th room, 40; high school, 69.—Burlington Junction Post.

RULER "ON TRUST"

Argentina's President to Be Had No Platform.

KNOWN ONLY AS A RADICAL.

Hipolito Irigoyen Overthrew the Conservatives and Will Make His Pledges as He Goes—No One Can Guess What He Intends to Do.

Buenos Aires.—When Hipolito Irigoyen takes the oath of office Oct. 12 as president of Argentina his country will start on one of the biggest experiments ever undertaken by a republic. Dr. Irigoyen will head the first Radical administration in Argentina.

What the doctor's ideal of "radicalism" is nobody knows. He has made no speeches. He has written almost nothing. He has never defined his position. What he intends to do as president not one of his countrymen can guess. Nobody knows whether he is pan-American.

The Radical party was organized in Argentina to fight for fair elections. It has never had any other platform. "We have ideals," leading members of the party say, "but no program." There were even reports that Dr. Irigoyen will issue a manifesto soon dissolving the party itself now that an honest ballot, as he is said to believe, has been guaranteed. This, however, is mere surmise.

The doctor was elected president because a majority of the voters trusted him, personally, implicitly and blindly. Those who believe in him consider him Argentina's greatest man. His opponents regard him as extremely dangerous and look forward to his administration with the gravest misgivings.

Dr. Irigoyen is about sixty, a tall, powerfully built, imposing man and very dark. His blood is Spanish Basque, with a slight Indian strain, some say.

The new president began life poor. He is self educated and a highly cultivated man. He is now rich, the result of land transactions. By occupation he is a ranchman on a huge scale, with a very modest residence in Buenos Aires.

From the moment of his election he secluded himself in his town house. No politicians were admitted. He received no office seekers. He refused to make any promises. He has listened to no suggestions. His house is without a telephone, and he has answered no letters.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, a visitor in Argentina, was one of those who wanted to see him. Irigoyen sent out word that he was ill.

MADE 172,000,000,000 STAMPS

Since 1847 Annual Postoffice Issue Has Jumped Rapidly.

Washington.—Approximately 172,000,000,000 postage stamps have been issued by the United States since they were placed on sale at New York July 1, 1847.

Issuance passed the billion a year mark in 1882, the 2,000,000,000 mark in 1890, the 3,000,000,000 mark in 1896, the 4,000,000,000 mark in 1901, the 5,000,000,000 mark in 1902, the six, seven, eight nine and 10,000,000,000 marks in 1906, 1907, 1909, 1910, 1911 respectively and the 11,000,000,000 mark in 1914. Last year the exact number of ordinary postage stamps issued was 11,226,586,415. Stamped envelopes and wrappers numbered 1,793,764,296.

DID RIGHT TO SPANK WIFE.

Magistrate Gives Husband Liberty When He Hears Story.

New York.—There is no great harm in a husband spanking his wife when she slaps his face because he wanted to caress her, in the opinion of Magistrate Steers of Brooklyn. He discharged Charles Becker, charged by his wife with assault, after hearing the story.

Mrs. Katherine Becker told the magistrate that after an argument Becker spanked her. Becker admitted he had done so, but he said when he wanted to caress his wife she drew away and slapped him across the face. Whereupon he put her over his knees and spanked her.

LOST BOY UNDER BED.

Two-year-old Finally Found Asleep at Home After Long Search.

Marysville, O.—William Reed, two-year-old son of Edward Reed, took his baby sister's bottle of milk and crawled under the bed to drink it. He fell asleep.

Later the parents, missing him, got the neighborhood out to search for the boy. Several motorcars went out hunting him. Three hours later he was found snoozing soundly under the bed.

Tradition Turned Topsy Turvy.

Stevens Point, Wis.—"Keep on the Grass" is the unusual sign to be seen in front of two Stevens Point residences. It sounds a little like turning tradition topsy turvy, but the explanation is simple. The streets were given a thick coating of oil and pedestrians tracked it wherever they went. Two property owners did not wish their new concrete walks mussed, so fenced them off and tacked up signs.

Lake Emptied For Ring.

Kansas City, Mo.—A lake in a city park here was drained of more than 500,000 gallons of water the other day to recover a wedding ring lost there by Mrs. Hugh Foster. Several days ago while skipping stones across the surface of the water she lost her ring off her finger.

PLANS GO FORWARD

nouncer to announce the revival at the grounds yesterday afternoon and last night.

Great interest in the choir, which will be under the direction of Prof. Charles Forsythe, has been aroused. It is expected that 400 voices will participate when the director starts the singing Sunday morning.

Sunday will be a great day. Two and possibly three meetings will be held. Dr. Scoville always preaches his most powerful sermons the opening day and makes whatever suggestions he thinks necessary to local pastors and laymen.

A big force of carpenters are working on the huge platform and choir left at the tent on the high school grounds. With the canvas seats installed the tent, which is 170 by 120, will resemble an enormous amphitheater. Local committees will attend to the decorating tomorrow afternoon.

When the crowds enter the tent Sunday morning they will see a platform decked with a profusion of flowers and American flags. Every effort will be made to provide for the safety of those who attend in the evenings. Lights will be hung under the trees west of the tent, and every avenue of approach to the grounds will be cleared and well lighted.

Four members of the Scoville party are already here, Rev. Mr. Waldraven and Floyd F. Miles, publicity manager, joining Mr. Forsythe and Mr Parker last night. Miss Stella Robinson, secretary of the company, is expected either this evening or tomorrow morning.

Parker, Forsythe and Miles mingled with the crowds at the fair yesterday afternoon and last evening, getting acquainted. All expressed pleasure at the cordial welcome given them by Maryville folks, and predict a great meeting here.

MANY ODD REQUESTS

A Curious Record of Unusual Requests as Kept by a Hotel Manager.

New York, Sept. 8.—Copeland Townsend, owner of the Hotel Majestic, and former manager of the Palmer House in Chicago, has kept a curious record of unusual requests made by his guests. Here are a few cases:

A woman in mourning who refused to ride on the elevators with anyone else save the operator.

A man who wanted the same thing for lunch every day in the year and who wanted it on the table at two o'clock whether he was there or not.

A woman who wanted all parcels delivered under a wax seal placed there by the hotel.

A Southerner who always insisted on having seven blankets on his bed. Six would not suffice.

A man with a family of two boys and a girl having the freedom of the men's writing room for an hour every afternoon. He did not have his request granted.

A woman who demanded to taste every article of food before it was fed to her poodle dog.

A Spaniard who was afflicted with insomnia and always wanted a regular bed and one made on the floor so he could alternate between the two.

A stage star who had a bell boy bring her a bouquet of flowers each evening at dinner which she had purchased herself and which bore the name of a fictitious male admirer.

The great advantage the moving picture screen has over the stage for providing lucid and fast moving entertainment has frequently been discussed. The camera man has a great opportunity for trickery, even more than the magicians of stage craft, and there have been repeated evidences of this in photoplays of recent times.

In a recent Bluebird Photoplay the leading man in "Rupert of Hentzau" was seen for a moment, appearing in the same scene in both the characters he interpreted. There will be a still more marvelous example of photographic trickery in "John Needham's Double," another Bluebird, with Tyrone Power playing the dual role of John Needham and Joseph Norbury.

Going on further the mystifying spectacle of a man giving himself poison, drinking it himself and then disrobing himself, and changing clothes with himself while the man lies on the floor as dead. These seem to be matters of moving pictures out of the question and impossible of belief. But inasmuch as seeing is believing the doubters will have opportunity to see Tyrone Power do all these things—through the magic of "double exposure," as the moving picture people call it.

TRANSPLANT IN THE FALL.

Is the Best Time to Plant Trees and Shrubs on the Home Grounds.

In general the fall is the best time to plant trees and shrubs on the home grounds. When planted in the fall the plant is given an opportunity to spend its strength in producing new root growth rather than top growth. These new roots are the "feeding" roots and if well established will give added vigor to the plant the following year. The protection and health of the root system is the most important consideration in plant growing.

There are some exceptions to this rule. If the summer and fall seasons have been unusually dry and the plant has suffered from drouth, it may be best to wait until early spring to transplant, as plants may recuperate during the winter. In some parts of the country late summer planting of evergreens has proved best, but for Missouri early spring planting seems more satisfactory.

It is best to transplant all trees and shrubs in the fall. It is possible to move plants after they have "leafed out" but there is some danger of over-evaporation of moisture from the leaves and bark which will exhaust the strength of the roots. The plant will then show wilt and spend its strength on new leaves instead of readjusting its roots. To lessen the danger from evaporation it is always well to cut the tops back severely, and if in leaf the trunk of a tree should be wrapped with straw or sphagum moss to keep it moist. Trees have been moved as late as June 1st in central Missouri without showing wilt by using this method. It is better to transplant early in the morning or late in the afternoon.

Rainy or cloudy days are the best ones in which to do planting. Transplant after the leaves drop in the autumn or before they open in the spring. Remove injured roots, broken branches, and cut back the tops. Preserve the fine hair-like roots; they are the feeders, the others only serve as anchors. Never allow the roots to dry out in the wind or sun. Cover them with earth or wet straw. Dig the hole much larger than the spread of the roots and do not bend or crowd them. Tamp the soil firmly and closely about the roots, but leave about two inches of loose soil at the surface. These planting rules are important. A tree lives longer than a man; take time and care in planting it, and in general, plant in the fall.—H. F. Major, Missouri College of Agriculture.

TO PROMOTE LYCEUM COURSE

Committee in Charge of Publicity to Meet Monday to Plan for Coming Season.

The committee having in charge the promotion of the Lyceum course for the coming season will meet at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon for the purpose of arranging publicity plans for the various programs.

Since good advertising is the secret of the success of such courses, the committee will begin at once the work of laying before the public the excellence of the numbers and the necessity of co-operation by schools, clubs, etc.

The numbers for this year are: James Goddard, world renowned basso of the Chicago Grand Opera company; Harold Bauer, master pianist; Judge George P. Alden, lecturer; Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, lecturer, and the Zoellner string quartet.

Miss Carrie Margaret Baker will leave Monday for Evanston, Ill., where she will attend Northwestern university.

Charles Reign Scoville, Evangelist
A Man Of Remarkable Attainments

DR. CHARLES REIGN SCOVILLE.

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville, the evangelist who will conduct a series of evangelistic meetings here beginning Sunday, has had a remarkable career.

For nineteen years he has been holding revivals. He has preached all over the United States, and a few years ago had a triumphant evangelistic tour in Australia. His converts number into the thousands and he has revolutionized some of the big cities of the country, notably, Pueblo, Colo., Akron, O., and Jefferson City, Mo.

Among the converts at the Jefferson City meeting were some of the most prominent men in Missouri. Doctor Scoville has the endorsement of leading men the world over.

Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, who preaches in the great Central church at Chicago, and who is said by many to be "America's foremost divine," recently paid a high tribute to Scoville. He said:

"Unlike many evangelists, Dr. Scoville would make a wonderful pastor. He proved what he could do in that work in his earlier years.

"Dr. Scoville is one of the greatest combinations of pastor and evangelist living. I am not always in sympathy with the methods of many modern revivalists, but Dr. Scoville strikes the right chord in me in everything he does."

Dr. Scoville is also a builder, an organizer and a great lecurer. He receives hundreds of appeals from chautauqua bureaus, lyceum bureaus, colleges and other institutions for lectures and speeches. He is a keen student of current events, utterly fearless in his preaching and spares none in his denunciation of sin. He is a friend of the workingman and in many cities thousands of workers have paid him tributes.

Dr. Scoville gives thousands of dollars to charity. He is known everywhere for his generosity and for his interest in humanity. His whole career has been one of helpfulness to others, often to his own sacrifice. His meeting at Keokuk, Ia., last spring is said by citizens there to have done more for stricken humanity than any other agency that ever acted in Keokuk.

With Dr. Scoville in his work is his wife, Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville. Mrs. Scoville is the pianist and soloist of the party. She has recently completed a course of voice culture under the direction of eastern instructors. Her singing has been a distinctively bright feature of the Scoville meetings for several years.

Dr. Scoville has traveled around the world and in nearly every country. He held big revival meetings in Melbourne, Sidney and other Australian cities and now has enough calls to keep him busy for many years. In Colorado his work at Pueblo, it is said, had a large part to do with causing Colorado to vote dry on the liquor question.

The different moral tone that prevailed in Pueblo after his departure resulted in a big increase in the temperance vote.

HAINES 'BUNCH' AT FAIR

EMPLOYEES OF HAINES STORE ATTRACTION OF BIG DAY.

In Uniforms of Red and White and Headed by "Boss," They Visit Booths and See Races.

One of the super-attractions of the big county fair yesterday afternoon was the spectacular tour of the grounds made by the "Haines Bunch," the bunch being the employes of the Haines dry goods store.

Surcharged with enthusiasm, wearing nifty uniforms of red and white and headed by the proprietor, Harvey L. Haines, the bunch took an auto ride around the race course, their arrival having first been announced from the judges' stand.

Red and white pennants fluttered from the car and each girl manipulated the small boy's favorite noise maker, a "go-devil." The bunch was then tendered a special invitation to sit in the judges' stand and view the races. After this they visited all the concessions and lunch stands of the grounds, having their fill of fun and eats and leaving an extra coin or two with the church women's booths to help along their work.

The store was closed from 1 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and when it was reopened many from the big crowd at the fair visited the store.

Among the visitors were two parties of St. Joseph people, one crowd from Tarkio and one from Clarinda, all of whom were anxious to see the store and become acquainted with such a lively bunch. The visit of the "Haines bunch" was one of the features of the 1915 fair.

Everyone visiting the store expressed their delight at its up-to-dateness and also commented on the splendid success of the county fair.

Secretary Roach After Analysis Says Republicans Are Pursuing Forlorn Hope.

Analysis of the vote polled in the recent state primary shows beyond doubt that Missouri Democrats are actively at work and furnishes small basis for hope to the Republicans.

Secretary of State Cornelius Roach, after a study of the figures, said today:

"A careful auysis of the state primary election vote gives ample proof that the old standpat contingent is pursuing a forlorn hope in Missouri.

"The total Democratic vote for governor was 234,812. The Republican vote for the same office was only 191,654, a difference of 43,158 in favor of the Democrats. It can not be said there was no contest to bring out the Republican vote, for that party had four candidates for governor. Between two of them the rivalry was intense. The influences that failed to produce larger Republican figures in the primary have been at work for some time, are still at work and will manifest themselves at the general election.

"The vote for governor, however, does not represent the full Democratic vote cast, for Middlecamp, who had no opposition for state treasurer, received 240,951 votes. These figures more truly represent the number of Democrats voting at the primary.

"The Republican vote for supreme judge was 195,488, the only state office for which the Republicans had no contest. Their total vote for governor however, was from 7,000 to 10,000 larger than for any other Republican state candidate. The difference between the maximum Democratic and Republican vote was 45,463 on state offices.

"A review of the congressional vote shows the same gloomy outlook for the Republicans. In the First District there were 18,464 Democratic votes to 8,634 Republican. The Republicans permitted the Second District to go by default. In the Third District the three Republican candidates garnered only 8,410 votes, while the two Democrats received 14,796. About the same figures tell the story in the Fourth District. The Fifth, consisting of Jackson county, where Democratic factional troubles existed last spring, produced 22,614 Democratic votes to 12,403 Republican, almost two to one. The remaining congressional districts tell the same uniform story of shortage in Republican votes."

MRS. WRIGHT SUES FOR $5000

Her Son, B. G. Wright, Was Killed in Auto Accident and Casualty Company Failed to Pay Insurance.

A suit for $5,000 was filed this afternoon in Circuit Clerk Westfalls office by Mrs. Lena J. Wright of Grant City against the Great Eastern Casualty company. Mrs. Wright's son, B. G. Wright, was killed in an automobile accident on September 3, 1915, while on his way from Grant City to Maryville to attend the county fair. The accident occurred about three miles east of Maryville.

Mr. Wright had a policy with this company and in case of death by accident, his mother was to receive $5,000. The company has failed to pay the amount. E. G. Cook is the attorney for the plaintiff.

MAN AND FISH COLLIDE; BOTH HEADS DENTED

Ambulance Takes Them to the Hospital Togther.

Ridgway, Pa.—Patrick Deering was carried in an ambulance to a hospital recently, while by his side lay the cause of his troubles, the biggest trout ever seen in this vicinity. Pat was in sore need of treatment for a dent in his head, while his companion in distress, the trout, was to be treated as food for the hospital patients.

Patrick while diving in Laurel mill pool collided with the big trout. The fish, stunned by the blow, immediately rose to the surface and was captured by other swimmers. Pat, sorely hurt, was pulled from the water.

HOBO NEARLY LOSES HIS FORTUNE BY FIRE

Vest Which Contained Life's Savings Was About to Go Into a Furnace.

Bedford, Pa.—Twelve thousand three hundred and six dollars, the savings of a lifetime, which Tony Colombo of the east side, New York, had sewed in his vest, were saved from a blazing furnace in a local hotel by a narrow margin.

George Regoveri, cellist in the orchestra at the hotel, while motoring noticed a hobo pick a piece of bread from the ground where a picnic had been held several days ago. Regoveri took the man in his car and carried him back to the hotel. In the servants' quarters he was bathed, given a new suit of clothing and then a meal. Later he started on his way to New York.

He had been gone only a short time when he returned hastily, crying that his savings of a lifetime were sewed in the old vest, which he had discarded and which the management of the hotel had ordered consigned to the furnace. A hasty search was made and the money was found, as Colombo said.

Husband Slain on Duty, Woman Exempt From P. O. Examination.

Little Rock, Ark.—President Wilson has swept aside red tape and issued an executive order granting Mrs. Myrtle M. Davis of England, Ark., a position in any postoffice in Arkansas without taking an examination.

Mrs. Davis' husband, Edward A. Davis, a rural carrier, was killed while on duty June 10. Steve Ashcraft, living near England, jealous of his wife, from whom he was separated, it is said, had ordered Davis not to deliver any mail to Mrs. Ashcraft. Davis explained that he must perform his duties and continued to deliver mail to the woman. He was shot and killed, and Ashcraft is under arrest charged with his murder.

DOCTOR FLIES TO SEE PATIENT

Hydroaeroplane Carries Physician and Wife Across Bay.

New York.—To reach a patient on Fire island Dr. George S. King of Bay Shore, N. Y., used a flying boat recently to hurry across Great South bay. No sailboat was available. Dr. King took his wife along.

The six and one-half mile trip consumed only seven minutes. The operator of the hydroaeroplane landed near shore and carried the passengers to land. While the doctor was attending to his patient Mrs. King took a trip of her own in the airboat, circling Fire island light several hundred feet in the air and flying out over the ocean.

ELUDED POLICE FOR 44 YEARS.

Only After Visit to Old Home Was Accused Slayer Caught.

Asheville, N. C.—After eluding the authorities for forty-four years, Andrew Wise, a white man wanted for killing a constable in Buncombe county, has been arrested in Williamson, W. Va.

He was caught immediately after the killing, but escaped while on the way to jail. He was not heard from again until last April, when he made a brief visit to the county, but left before the sheriff was notified. After a four months' search he was found in Williamson.

BARNARD AFTER LIGHTS

SPECIAL ELECTION TO VOTE ON FRANCHISE TO MARYVILLE CO.

The Present Owner of the Light Plant Sells Interest to Maryville Electric Light and Power Co.

Barnard is to hold a special election on September 26 for the purpose of voting on the proposition of granting the Maryville Electric Light and Power company a franchise. This week's Barnard Bulletin had the following:

Arrangements were completed yesterday for securing lights from Maryville, as has been talked for some time. Westerbeck, the present owner of our local plant, has sold his interests to the Maryville people, provided they can get a franchise and will leave about the first of October.

The town board have held several meetings regarding the matter, and have called a special election for Tuesday, September 26, for voting on the franchise. The new franchise is a very liberal one for the people of Barnard and is much better than the old one. It provides for a twenty-four hour service, for a minimum rate of 75 cents a month and a rate of 15 cents per kilowat, with a 10 per cent discount if paid before the 10th of the month after due, which makes the rate 13½ cents, provided one uses as much as 8 kilowats. The franchise provides for all-night service in street lights at a very nominal price. The advantages offered by the Maryville company are such that no man should hesitate to vote for the franchise.

The Maryville company is planning to run wires to Barnard and to several other towns and will have the work completed by July 1 of next year, at which time we will have this all-day service.

MEMBER OF WILLIAM FOX CAST.

Hattie Burks, known throughout America as a member of the vaudeville team of Lorraine and Burks, and as a musical comedy dancer, appears in her first picture under William Fox presentation in the recently released film "Sins of Men," starring Stuart Holmes and Dorothy Bernard. Miss Burks may be especially favorably remembered as the featured dancer in the Viennese opera, "The Blue Paradise," in which company she played for nearly a year just prior to her entering the moving picture field with Mr. Fox.

Rated by most men as an atrocity of costuming, it served the purpose for which a feminine mind conceived it—attracted attention. Once having accomplished that nothing was able to stop it, and women who were bulgy around the middle became even more so with the accented narrow and semi-pantaloon skirts tapering downward, while the waist line and hip dimension bulged outward noticeably.

In vaudeville Miss Burks has worn most astonishing gowns, always of her own creation and design, and these she hopes to bring into the movies soon.
